

Professional Development Workshop

CRISP Collaborative Science for All (CCSA)

"A Collaborative 21st Century Approach to Implementing the Current Science Curriculum"

Develop models around current embedded tasks to promote deeper learning and engage students by looking at common content from different disciplinary perspectives

Saturday, October 6, 2012

8:00am to 12 noon

Yale Peabody Museum

170 Whitney Avenue New Haven, CT 06511

Participants to receive breakfast, 0.3 CEU's, $50 stipend, and take home science materials upon completion of workshop

RSVP by Friday, September 21 to CRISP Education & Outreach (crisp.mrsec@gmail.com)

Enrollment is limited, so please RSVP as soon as possible to ensure a seat.

CCSA - Who are we?

A team of collaborative, innovative and interdisciplinary educators who wish to enhance the educational opportunities for New Haven students by facilitating professional development for teachers.

Center for Research on Interface Structures and Phenomena an NSF-funded Materials Research Science Engineering Center (MRSEC)
Yale University • Southern Connecticut State University